

1. ICAR Appearance

1.1. Logo

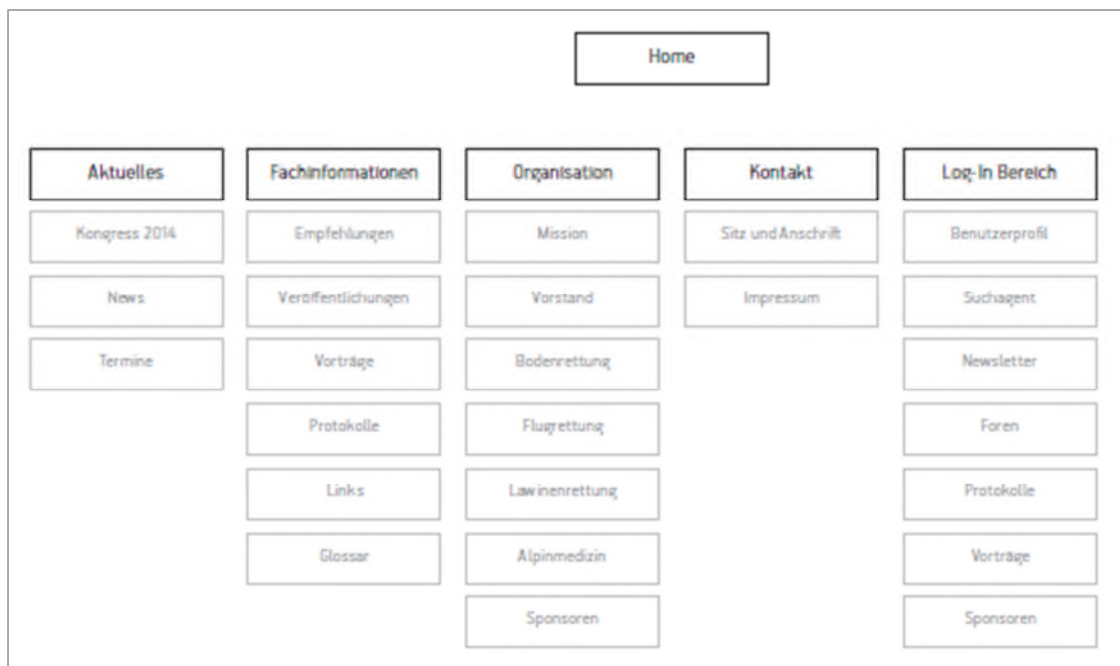

From the two proposed options, the ICAR Board prefers the modern looking one (option 1):

Since quite a few Board Members feel that the proposed type of green color makes a cheap, not really satisfactory impression, the ICAR Board would like to ask for a second proposal of this same modern logo with a more intense, maybe a little bit darker green. The voting, for which green we finally will go, can quickly be made via e-mail, as soon as the requested second option is available.

1.2. Website Redesign

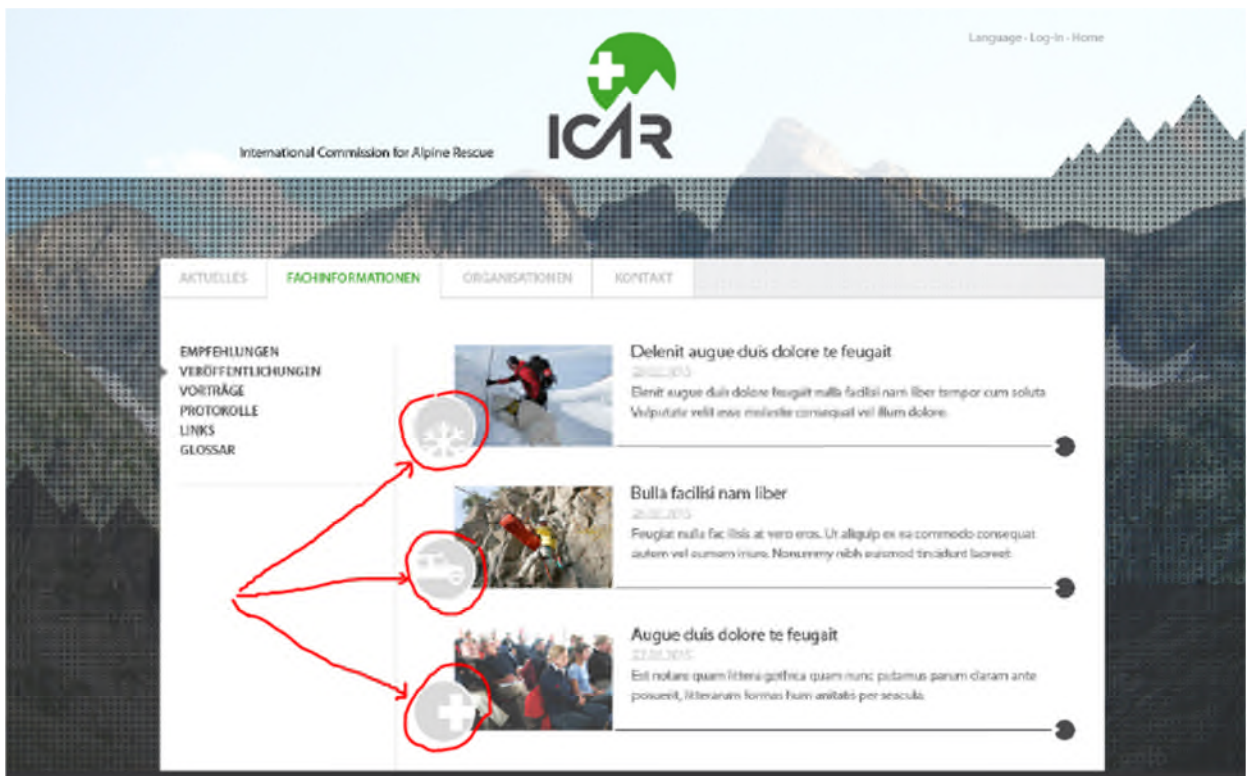

The proposed structure as per illustration below is ok:

The ICAR Board decides to choose proposed design option 1:

However there shouldn't be any other graphical symbol or logo except for ICAR in general, the proposed commission symbols as per illustration below should be removed:

A first look at the newly designed ICAR website shall be available in the beginning of October 2014.

1.3. Domain name

The ICAR Board is for an implementation of a new, better matching domain name (in connection with the new logo and the English abbreviation) and chooses alpine-rescue.org.
